The former residence of the Nizam of Hyderabad, Falaknuma Palace has been rightfully leased by the Royal Family of Hyderabad to the Taj Group of Hotels Resorts and Palaces with Royal Family members having personally supervised part of the Palace’s refurbishment. Guest can now experience the famed Nizam’s hospitality which was once the sole preserve of royalty. The palace was built by the Prime minister of the 6th Nizam and the construction started in the year 1884 and ended in the year 1893, it took 10 years for the restoration of the Palace and opened its door as a hotel on 13th Nov 2010. 2000 feet above Hyderabad, Taj Falaknuma Palace, beautifully refurbished and lovingly restored rooms allow you to journey into the clouds and into the glided ages, where grandeur and excess is celebrated and savored in equal measure. Those who have revelled in its opulence have revelled in its large Venetian chandeliers, rare furniture, grand marble staircases and gurgling fountains, priceless statues, and objects d’art, stained-glass windows, unique sketches and murals encased in ornate frames, a world-class collection of crystal as well as the Mughal, Rajasthani and Japanese gardens personally conceived by the Nizam. The Palace Library, a replica of the one at Windsor Castle, is a collector’s envy as it is home to the rarest of manuscripts, books and one of the most acclaimed collections of the Holy Quran in the country, all of which were selected and brought back by the Nizam himself.

When Peter Zumthor built the thermal baths in 1996, the small mountain town of Vals became a mecca for architecture enthusiasts. Hotel 7132, named after Vals’ postal code, intends to enhance this reputation even further. Gradual renovations on the hotel started in 2012. The management chose to work with internationally renowned architects, giving them free hand to design the rooms and suites as they wished. The new rooms and three suites designed by Kengo Kuma were just recently completed. Kuma installed NEOREST AC WASHLETs in the suites, which matched their simple elegance. The Japanese architect was, of course, familiar with the shower toilets and the many advantages they offer. Today, more and more European guests are also learning to appreciate the clean feeling they experience after using the WASHLET.

The Gallery TOTO at the Naha International Airport is located in the NACTA SKY LOUNGE “WA”, which connects the Terminal 2 main building to the Satellite (annex) and opened to public in Apr 2015. GALLERY TOTO is surrounded by glass on three sides, featuring individual booths and boasting the Japan first use of LED luminous textiles screens. Gallery TOTO was designed by Klein Dytham architecture (KDa). The concept is to tell the world about Japanese toilet culture and its advanced technology. Astrid Klein of KDa said, “GALLERY TOTO is both a toilet area and a showroom. It also gives foreign tourists leaving Japan a final and memorable experience as they board the plane to return to their countries. So from the premise that a fun experience leads to good memories, we decided to try to design a toilet that more than anything else wasn’t a toilet – but a “gallery.” Mark Dytham also said that they wanted both the user of the space and those around it to be able to enjoy the gallery, so Gallery TOTO is a collection of individually unique toilet spaces which allows people using the toilets to retain their grace and dignity. But above all, it is the only toilet space of its kind in the world which, through the Japanese ‘shoji’ like LED screens, brings a smile to your face.
